

Landon Frye

University of Illinois, B.S. 2012, Agricultural and Consumer Economics

Landon Frye currently serves as the Director of Sales & Partnerships at Ambrook, a company that builds accounting and financial tools for farms. He is devoted to working at the intersection of technology and agriculture and focuses on bringing solutions to farmers to keep the family farm rolling onto the next generation.

Previously, he worked at Granular and AcreValue, bringing ag-tech products to the market. He also worked as the Head of Sales at AgAnalytics, in business development at Corteva, as a Loan Officer at Farm Credit Illinois, and in internal accounting at Monsanto.