

Nancy Geubelle, CFP®, is the Director of Gift Planning at the University of Illinois Foundation, a role she has held since 2022.

In this position, she partners with alumni and friends of the University to help them achieve their long-term philanthropic goals, aligning personal values with meaningful support for programs and initiatives across the University of Illinois system.

Nancy has more than twenty years of experience in financial services and wealth management. Before joining the University of Illinois Foundation, she served in multiple leadership roles with Busey Wealth Management and Busey Investment Services, where she oversaw compliance and operational functions within the firm's retail investment division. Nancy is a CERTIFIED FINANCIAL PLANNER™ professional and has also held several FINRA licenses throughout her career.

Nancy is a graduate of Manhattanville University, earning a B.S. in Business Management in 1990. She has longstanding ties to the University of Illinois, having managed Busey Wealth Management's internship program and mentored numerous students from the Financial Planning Program at Illinois as they transitioned into the profession. She is also a frequent guest speaker for the Department of ACE, sharing insights from her work in financial planning and charitable giving.

In addition to her professional responsibilities, Nancy is a member of the Carle Women's Legacy Circle and serves on the Board of Directors for the Friends of the Champaign County Forest Preserve.
